WHEREAS, computer hardware, software, network and Internet applications are making law firms more competitive and productive in addition to improving the quality of the attorney's work product; and

WHEREAS, the practice of law in the 21st Century requires an aggressive technology management strategy; and

WHEREAS, the City's Law Department requires certain types of technology to remain viable, to grow, and to thrive in a manner which protects the legal interests of the City of Atlanta; and

WHEREAS, deciding on the right technology for a municipal law practice is both important and complex, thus the City Attorney assembled a panel of legal technology experts to advise her on the most effective law office technology solutions; and

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ATLANTA, GEORGIA hereby resolves that the City Attorney is authorized to accept the donation of properly licensed computer hardware and software from the law firms of KILPATRICK STOCKTON, LLP and KING & SPALDING, LLP, valued at approximately $150,000.
