Roslyn Pope, Ph.D.

Dr. Roslyn Pope, a native Atlantan, has achieved a long list of accomplishments in a variety of fields. She has excelled in music, academia, religion, and political activism. While at Booker T. Washington High School, she served as Glee Club accompanist and performed at the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra's Young People's Concert. She was the first female elected student government president, and was also elected president of the State Student Government Association of Georgia.

At Spelman College, she was elected president of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes, as well as the Spelman Student Government Association. While at Spelman she was chosen to study in Europe as a Merrill Scholar. During her 15-month sojourn, she matriculated at L'Ecole Normale de Musique and studied with the renowned Nadia Boulanger. Her musical career has included many performances as piano soloist, accompanist, and choral director, as well as additional study at the Cleveland Institute of Music.

Upon returning to Spelman from Europe, as president of the student body, she became immersed in the budding Student Civil Rights Movement. She was the primary author of "An Appeal for Human Rights," the official manifesto of the Atlanta Student Movement. This document has been heralded as a remarkable representation of the determination of young people to throw off the stigma of segregation and discrimination and to achieve their birthrights as human beings and as citizens of Atlanta and the United States. She currently serves as a founding member of CUBE (Citizens United for Better Education).

Roslyn attained a Master's Degree in English from Georgia State University and a Doctorate in Humanities from Syracuse University. While at Syracuse, she was privileged to be named a Kent Fellow by the Danforth Foundation.

She has taught in the Department of Religious Studies at Pennsylvania State University and chaired the Division of Humanities at Bishop College. She also served as Director of Ethnic and Intercultural Relations at the University of Texas at Arlington. She holds a second Doctorate in Transpersonal Psychology from Delphi University.

Additionally, Roslyn excelled as an advertising consultant at AT&T, from which she retired. Throughout, she has sought opportunities to contribute toward peace, culture, and education.

Roslyn is the mother of two daughters and the grandmother of a grandson and granddaughter, Jordan and Lilyan.
