Dear President and Members of Atlanta City Council:

The BeltLine Network is pleased to offer the following new appointments to the Atlanta BeltLine TAD Advisory Committee:

Jennette Gayer, Transit and Transportation (Jennette is with Environment Georgia and on the board of Citizens for Progressive Transit)

Richard Laub, Historic Preservation (Richard is Director of the Heritage Preservation Master's Degree Program in the Department of History at Georgia State University)

Deanna Murphy, Design (Deanna is with the Georgia Conservancy and is an architect and urban designer)

Allean Brown, Community Benefits (Allean is currently the secretary of NPU-S, a graduate of Georgia Stand-UP's Policy Institute, and a volunteer community organizer in her community)

We also wish to reappoint the following TADAC members:

Priscilla Smith, Arts and Culture

Gerald Scott, Labor and Workforce Development

Michelle Marcus, Public Health and Environment

We believe their experience will make them assets on the Advisory Committee.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth B. Coyle, Chair

After spending the last three years as Acting Director, Richard Laub has joined the History faculty at Georgia State University on a full-time basis in 2001 as the Director of the Heritage Preservation Masters Degree Program. Richard's duties will include administration of the program, student advisement and teaching responsibilities.

Richard has worked in the field of historic preservation for over 20 years, receiving his initial training as a restoration craftsman with the National Trust for Historic Preservation. Subsequent to his work at the National Trust, he received training in the theory and practice of architectural conservation at the International Centre for the Study of the Preservation and Restoration of Cultural Property in Rome, Italy. Upon returning to the U.S., Richard attended the University of Virginia, where he received a Masters Degree in Planning with a Certificate in Historic Preservation in 1987.

Since graduating from the University of Virginia, Richard worked for fifteen years at the Georgia Historic Preservation Division, where for the last 10 years he served as their Community Planning Coordinator, providing communities and organizations throughout the state with preservation planning assistance. With his diverse interests in the field of historic preservation, Richard has taught courses in the Heritage Preservation Program at Georgia State University since 1990 including; Conservation of Historic Building Materials and Preservation Planning. He has now taken responsibility for the Case Studies in Historic Preservation course as well as the International Historic Preservation course, which will study abroad in Havana, Cuba in May, 2011. He also teaches courses on the undergraduate level in historic preservation and public history.

Active in the community, Richard has served as the Chairman of the Atlanta Urban Design Commission and has worked with his neighbors to have his Inman Park neighborhood designated a local Historic District.

Richard leads his classes out into the metropolitan Atlanta community, giving students the chance to combine a solid foundation in historic preservation and public history theory with practical experience, assisting neighborhoods and municipalities with historic preservation projects.
