DATE: August 2, 2013
TO: Rhonda Dauphin-Johnson, City of Atlanta Municipal Clerk
FROM: Andy Schneggenburger, Executive Director, AHAND
RE: AHAND appointment to the BAHAB
CC: Lynnette Reid, Atlanta Beltline Inc.

The Atlanta Housing Association of Neighborhood-based Developers (AHAND) is pleased to appoint Mr. Young Hughley to the Atlanta BeltLine Affordable Housing Advisory Board, to fill the seat vacated by Mr. Pete Hayley. This appointment is for the seat which is appointed solely by AHAND.

Mr. Hughley is a highly qualified appointee to the BAHAB, having directed a successful community development corporation in a BeltLine neighborhood for over 20 years. Since part of that work included the development of affordable housing, Mr. Hughley is very familiar with the process of financing and delivering affordable housing, and a variety of the federal and local resources to support it, including HOME funds, low income housing tax credits, and other HUD financing programs. He is a City of Atlanta resident.

Mr. Hughley may be reached via email at youngth@msn.com

Thank you for your prompt attention to this appointment.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'A. Schneggenburger'.

Andy Schneggenburger
Executive Director

Young T. Hughley, Jr.

Professional Experience

Founder and CEO of Resources for Residents and Communities, Inc.:

(Formerly, Reynoldstown Revitalization Corporation or RRC), 1989 – 2011:

- Provided leadership and Development of four business lines: Housing Production and Renovation and Rehab, Property Management, Community Building and the Home Ownership Center. Duties include Fund Raising, Development and Implementation of Programs, Housing Development, Community Capacity Building, Management of Personnel and Partnership Development. Under my leadership, over $24 million dollars was invested in the Reynoldstown Community and over 500 housing units were impacted.

Founder and Director of Hughley Gallery and Objects, 1990 – 1995:

- Curated and produced shows that were focused primarily on artist of color. The Gallery was created to support the revitalization of a disenfranchised African American Community.

I employed local residents and worked with exhibiting artist to create programming that would engage or highlight the community. The Gallery was also used as a venue for residents to celebrate relevant life events such as small weddings and other intimate festivities.

Broadway Manager, Producers Assistant and Casting Agent, 1980 – 1985:

- Management of Broadway productions for producers and theatrical facilities for owners, such as: Emanuel Azenberg, Lena Horn, Ashton Springer and James Neaderlander. Duties included oversight of staff and logistics; review and approval of box office statements, prepared and provided maintenance of payroll and human resource management.

President of Hughley Production Inc., 1979 – Present:

- Coordinated, managed and facilitated projects related to mass communication, art and entertainment. I also provided consultation as well as personal and business management for individual artists and business concerns interested in the same.

National Assistant Government Sales Manager, Sears, Roebuck and Co., 1971 – 1979:

- Managed the sales of several retails lines, developed support materials and maintained relationships with government customers, assisted in planning and manning Sear’s booth at industries trade conferences, and developed leads.
