Sec. 1 6-28A.007. General regulations.

- (q) Public Art: Public art meeting the following criteria may be conditionally located in any district. Consistent with the purpose and intent of this chapter, the Atlanta City Council may, by ordinance, approve a work of public art. Said approval shall not be granted unless said ordinance contains three (3) preliminary certifications: (1) A certification from the director of the bureau of traffic and transportation or designee that the work will not constitute a traffic hazard or undue and dangerous distraction to motorists or pedestrians; (2) A certification from the executive director of the urban design commission or designee that the work does not contain and is not intended to convey a commercial message primarily, provided that the name of a sponsor for said work may be displayed on an adjacent plaque or similar display that is no more than two (2) square feet in area; and (3) A certification from the director of the bureau of cultural affairs or designee that the work is not inconsistent with the City of Atlanta’s public art program. In making this finding, the council shall consider the required certifications; the qualifications and experience of the artist; the spatial relationship of the proposed art to the building or premises upon which it is located as well as the surrounding area; vehicular and pedestrian traffic safety; the existence of nearby signs; and the size and dimensions of the proposed work. Any work of public art approved by council under this paragraph shall be exempt from further regulation under this chapter 28A except as to maintenance and enforcement.

Artist Statement

It is my belief that all art is political by its nature. In the sense that it must engage in the public domain. That said, I do not feel a need to directly approach or engage in topical issues. I am more concerned with the life of the soul, mind and spirit. And as an artist the most direct way to these internal powers is through the imagination. I have no desire to attack or manipulate the viewer. I am not concerned with making propagandistic statements. I am much more interested in implications and questions.

I have several goals for my Living Walls piece. On the most superficial level I am trying to create a piece that makes people notice it. If someone smiles, or stares inquisitively, or even just stops for a quick look it will have achieved its most basic purpose. However the utmost goal is to create something that will invoke a sense of wonder in the viewer. It is my hope that I will be able to create an image which will wiggle its way into a viewer's imagination. Whether the viewer leaves with questions about the work's meaning, or an idea for the continuation of an implied narrative, or an interest in what may be on the inside of the structure. How deep does it go? What kind of race constructed such a monument? What is this a monument to? If I can evoke these kinds of questions I will consider my work a success. But ultimately that is out of my hands. All I can do is what I my imagination compels me to.
