Statement by Councilman Michael Julian Bond on the death of Prince

“I join Atlanta in being deeply saddened in hearing of the passing of the great musical genius known as Prince. I feel fortunate to have met him on several occasions and have been delighted and entertained by his music over my lifetime. He was an incredible artist, writer, producer, lyricists, performer and of course singer. He expanded the R&B genre of music to something that is un-definable but yet purely enjoyable to the human spirit. I want to send condolences to his family and all those who have been fans of his phenomenal music talent.” – Michael Julian Bond, Atlanta City Council, Post 1- At-Large
